FOREWORD

This publication has been prepared as a Supplement to VAN CLEVE: 1859 - 1987, published in 1987.

Its primary purpose is to present the names of and information about all the students who were attending Van Cleve School at the time of the merger with Marshalltown in 1960. The last Van Cleve graduating class -- Class of 1960 -- was included in the original book. The students in Kindergarten through Grade 11 in 1959-60, while not graduates of Van Cleve, are a very real part of that final year of existence of the Van Cleve School. Therefore, we want to present them in this Supplement.

Also included in this Supplement are the Kindergarten pupils in 1960-61 and 1961-62, as these children were an integral part of the Van Cleve community. The following year, 1962-63, the Van Cleve facility was operated by Marshalltown for special education classes, and at the end of that year, on June 28, 1963, the school building was officially closed.

As the Committee worked, it became evident that another group of Van Cleve students should be recognized: those students who attended Van Cleve, but who, for various reasons, did not complete their education here. Regretfully, some met death prematurely while in school, many were involved in family moving, others were needed at home, a few chose to transfer to another school even though still living in this community, while some others finished school at a later date. We think this list of names will trigger many memories for Alumni.

A secondary purpose of this Supplement is to enlarge upon some facets of school history -- both past and recent -- that will amplify and complement the contents of the original book. Additional information has been included here about teachers, school board, band, bus drivers, and cooks, along with recollections of students and teachers, and some additional pictures.

The Committee recognizes that a project of this scope presents much chance for error. The task of recalling names from years back has been a difficult challenge. However, the material presented here is as nearly correct and complete as possible. Perhaps you, the Alumni, will recall and share names of students, teachers, and others associated with the Van Cleve School that should be a part of this record.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The Committee that prepared the original book wishes to thank each one who contributed information, pictures, and recollections for this Supplement. We are particularly grateful for the assistance of several individuals who gave much time and effort to researching, writing, typing, identifying persons in pictures, and supplying names and addresses:

SCHOOL DAYS, SCHOOL DAYS . . .

When I think of school memories, my first thought is of the horse-drawn bus we rode to school in. We had our lunch pails and tucked them under the seat and would always try to save some goodies to eat on the trip home. Mom always sent something hot in the thermos in the winter--either Campbells tomato soup or cocoa.

Spring mornings several of us would get out of the bus at the railroad track south of where Raymond and Kenny Vogts now live (used to be the Hi Bosch place) and walk to school, trying to beat the bus. Wild flowers were in abundance and the air smelled so sweet. When we ate our lunches at noon, there was always quite a bit of exchanging--a cookie for a cookie, etc. Those first spring mornings were a delight--rushing out to the platform by the bell (if the wind was in the north) to eat our lunch or out under the trees.

A very special treat, one we all looked forward to, was the Thursday hot lunch the Van Cleve "Ladies Aid" group served in the winter. We always raced down to the church to see who could get there first. The lunches cost 10¢ and they nearly always had hot chicken sandwiches, mashed potatoes with chicken gravy, and pie. Delicious! I'm sure most all the food was "raised"--every woman had her chickens and raised her own potatoes and fruit trees--so the ladies probably made a tidy sum in those depression years.

When the snow was deep in the winter, we went to school in the horse-drawn sleigh. Dad always had a hot soap stone wrapped in a towel for me to keep my feet and hands warm. Of course, the soap stone had been in the oven of the "cob and wood" cook stove all night. One morning the sleigh tipped over on its side on the hill right east of Herb and Carrie Hilleman's place. When we arrived at school, our good janitors, Frank Buchanan and Heinie Ritter, would assist the little ones in removing their overshoes and maybe sometimes rubbing cold feet--later helping to stack the boots on the steps going to the basement.

Our mothers made most all our clothes and anything store-bought was quite a treat. I especially remember the colorful printed feed sacks from which the dresses, blouses and shirts were made. This was in the depth of the "Great Depression."

The big picnic the last day of school was a big community affair. Later, these were changed to the first day of school. Parents and friends would come and the heavily laden tables out under the trees would groan with their bounty. This was a great interchange between parents, teachers and students and one everyone looked forward to with great anticipation.

It is only with happiness and nostalgia that I look back on my years spent at Van Cleve School, and I count it quite remarkable and wonderful that eight of us in the Class of 1938 went through all twelve years together--Garnet Gallentine, Lucille Hineman, Margaret Tigges, Violet Raeder, Vivian Nason, Eileen Turnbull, Wayne Warden, and myself.

ALL I EVER REALLY NEEDED TO KNOW I LEARNED IN KINDERGARTEN

Most of what I really need to know about how to live, and what to do, and how to be I learned in Kindergarten.

Wisdom was not at the top of the graduate school mountain, but right there in the sandbox at nursery school. These are the things I learned:

SHARE EVERYTHING. PLAY FAIR. DON'T HIT PEOPLE. PUT THINGS BACK WHERE YOU FOUND THEM. CLEAN UP YOUR OWN MESS. DON'T TAKE THINGS THAT AREN'T YOURS. SAY YOU'RE SORRY WHEN YOU HURT SOMEBODY. WASH YOUR HANDS BEFORE YOU EAT. FLUSH. WARM COOKIES AND COLD MILK ARE GOOD FOR YOU. LIVE A BALANCED LIFE. LEARN SOME AND THINK SOME AND DRAW AND PAINT AND SING AND DANCE AND PLAY AND WORK EVERY DAY SOME. TAKE A NAP EVERY AFTERNOON. EVEN WHEN I MESS UP, MOM AND DAD STILL LOVE ME.

WHEN YOU GO OUT INTO THE WORLD, WATCH FOR TRAFFIC, HOLD HANDS AND STICK TOGETHER. BE AWARE OF WONDER. REMEMBER THE LITTLE SEED IN THE PLASTIC CUP. THE ROOTS GO DOWN AND THE PLANT GOES UP AND NOBODY REALLY KNOWS HOW OR WHY, BUT WE ARE ALL LIKE THAT. GOLD-FISH AND HAMSTERS AND WHITE MICE AND EVEN THE LITTLE SEED IN THE PLASTIC CUP -- THEY ALL DIE. SO DO WE.

AND THEN REMEMBER THE BOOK ABOUT DICK AND JANE AND THE FIRST WORD YOU LEARNED, THE BIGGEST WORD OF ALL: LOOK. EVERYTHING YOU NEED TO KNOW IS IN THERE SOMEWHERE. THE GOLDEN RULE AND LOVE AND BASIC SANITATION. ECOLOGY AND POLITICS AND SANE LIVING. THINK OF WHAT A BETTER WORLD IT WOULD BE IF WE ALL -- THE WHOLE WORLD -- HAD COOKIES AND MILK ABOUT 3 O'CLOCK EVERY AFTERNOON AND THEN LAY DOWN WITH OUR BLANKETS FOR A NAP. OR IF WE HAD A BASIC POLICY IN OUR NATION AND OTHER NATIONS TO ALWAYS PUT THINGS BACK WHERE WE FOUND THEM AND CLEAN UP OUR OWN MESSSES.

AND IT IS STILL TRUE, NO MATTER HOW OLD YOU ARE, WHEN YOU GO OUT INTO THE WORLD, IT IS BEST TO HOLD HANDS, STICK TOGETHER, AND BELIEVE IN A FORGIVING GOD.

A FIRST AND SECOND GRADE TEACHER REMEMBERS . . .

When I came to Van Cleve there were five of us starting our teaching careers. The annual first day of school picnic seemed like a special welcome to a friendly community. The new teachers were Ethel Christianson, Benton Flora, Wilma Swanson and Josie Swensen. Supt. Swanson and Isabell Maxwell had been there the previous year.

Each year brought changes, with Alice Dowden, Florence Reineke, Violet Erickson, Velma Flora, Gladys Talcott, Glen Sherman joining the staff as years passed. We shared many good times and have kept in touch with most even though we are scattered throughout the Midwest.

A number of homes provided room and board and made us feel part of the family. They were the Fred Tigges, Lawrence Nasons, Park Griens, Bill Pothasts and Grandma and Gertie Turnbull. An interesting feature of the Turnbull house was the small room that had once been the office of one of Van Cleve's pioneer doctors.

Everyone ate a cold lunch at noon except on those days the Ladies Aid prepared a hot meal at the church. We looked forward to them. The cost was 10¢ for children and 25¢ for adults.

Transportation was a bit of a problem, but Mr. Dysart, who owned the lumberyard and lived in Marshalltown, was generous in providing rides when we needed to leave for a weekend.

After living here for fifty years, my first impression is confirmed that Van Cleve is a friendly community.

READIN' 'n' WRITIN' 'n' 'RITHMETIC . . . AND MEMORIES

My first memory of school comes from an early age, when Mother found me on the school side of the fence at recess before I was old enough to attend school!

Later came studies, fire drills, work-up softball, leaf houses, music contests, Mrs. Swift's literature classes, learning lines for class plays, dressing up in formals for Junior-Senior Proms, scavenger hunts, drive-in movies, collecting scrap paper, and the never-ending passing of notes and fearing getting caught by the study hall teacher.

But etched most clearly of all are the memories of class friends -- memories that can never be replaced.

My graduation from Van Cleve was a highlight, not only for me but for my father, who had to quit in his Senior year at Van Cleve to help my grandfather with the harvest.

True, the "business" of school is study and education, but the memories of friends and experiences woven through the tapestry of that twelve-year span of life add a significant dimension to those school days.

A STUDENT REMEMBERS . . .

When asked to write some school memories, a lot of memories came to mind. . . Riding a horse-drawn sleigh over fence rows and through the fields to meet a horse-drawn buggy or wagon driven by Wessel Bosch. . . Being in a school operetta with my sister as twin dolls. . . Our school plays and proms. . . Getting to stay after school for softball games. . . Enjoying the new gym and getting to play basketball in a new gym. . . The Globetrotters coming and playing against the Class of 1942. . .

In 1944 the girls were County Basketball Champions, defeating State Center. The Class of 1946, my class, was the second largest class to graduate from Van Cleve, being fifteen in number and exceeded in size only by the Class of 1951 (19 students). Four of us in the Class of 1946 started together and graduated together: Arnold Bollhoefer, Kenneth Pothast, Merle Pothast, and Marilyn Hamler.

My dad, Harry Hamler, Class of 1922, was the father of six children, all of whom graduated from Van Cleve. Indeed, my brother Howard, Class of 1942, was the first child of an alumnus to graduate from Van Cleve. My mother Clemma, who gave private music lessons, was a sister of J. R. Winslow, Superintendent of Van Cleve.

AND STILL MORE MEMORIES . . .

Remember the first day the Marshalltown system sent a bus out to pick up its load of children? Doris Warden relates that the bus "missed the mile with the most families and most kids!" Missed were the Donald Morris, Lynn Gowdy, Tom Ross, and Leonard Warden families. At that time the party telephone line was still in existence, so after a telephone discussion, the families summoned a second bus!

Remember the Palmer Method of penmanship? . . . All the ovals and push-pull strokes . . . The flowing, graceful capital letters . . . The ink wells in corners of desk tops to hold the bottles of ink while we maneuvered straight pens with removable points. . . How handy is the ballpoint pen today!

Remember the days when black cotton stockings were "in"? Teachers seemed to have a finer grade of cotton hose, while ours were ribbed and heavier . . . Later the popular colors were shades of deep beige . . . How embarrassing when the long underwear didn't wrap neatly at the ankle and the underwear and stocking stretched at the knee and looked bulky! Why didn't the days of jeans and snowpants come along when we really needed them for protection from the harsh weather during long bus rides?

Remember Glee Club and Orchestra, and later Band? The school always ranked high in music. Often sharing music teachers with another school, we had the best. Before the days of uniforms, remember buying patterns, selecting material, and sewing identical Glee Club dresses for music contest participation? "Oh, would I were a tender apple blossom" . . . How many times did our sextet sing "Londonderry Air"?

Remember when we first took typing . . . Or the craft class in which we soaked reed and wove raffia baskets? Board member George Dannen has remarked that he felt Van Cleve always ranked high in a well-rounded education. He was so right!

Other memories . . . The Big Indian Chief nickel tablets and penny pencils . . . Learning to become computer-swift in computation by doing competitive drills in addition and subtraction at the blackboard . . . Arguing endlessly and unsuccessfully with Benton Flora's theory that all things growing out of their rightful place are weeds! (Well, we do walk the bean rows today and pull out the corn!) . . . The excitement in Josie Swensen's 5th and 6th grade room during the spring when robins built a nest on the fire escape, and we all "parented" through the cycle of egg-laying, hatching, and first flight of the young . . . More excitement at recess and noon when we chose up sides and played "run around the schoolhouse" . . . Or the choosing of sides to play softball during physical education (boys were always chosen first, girls just because they had to be included!)

Remember the excitement of World Series time in October? . . . When students were permitted to gather on the bleachers to listen to the RADIO broadcasts of the games! (The bleachers in those long-ago days were actually a part of the Manual Training room but faced out onto the old gym in the original building. . . How many of us eager fans really knew the names of the competing teams? . . . Or were we just caught up in the fun of being free from the classroom?

"As to the value of other things, most men differ; concerning friendships, all have the same opinion. What sweetness is left in life, if you take away friendship? Robbing life of friendship is like robbing the world of sun."

VAN CLEVE REMEMBERED (1915 - 1929)

The new Van Cleve Consolidated School opened for classes in the fall of 1915, serving grades one through twelve. A year earlier, in 1914, a bank building was under construction, to be named Van Cleve Savings Bank. It was built on the lot vacated by the Ogle Blacksmith Shop. The Blacksmith Shop had been moved south to a lot just north of the building owned by Mr. Lingham that also housed the Post Office.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Otte south of Van Cleve (on property now owned by Kenneth Pothast) wanted to replace their home with a new one, so they moved their house north on their land on temporary blocks. Their old house served as a temporary home and office for Toedt & Son. Delbert Toedt built the Otte, Park Grier, and William Pothast homes.

After the houses were built, Jay Nason bought the Otte house and moved it on Railroad Street west of the Depot. It became the home of the Louis Leeper family, Station Agent.

Just south from the Depot, Walter Cook built a two-story home. Mr. Cook had moved here from Newburg, Iowa as a Railroad Section Foreman.

When J. E. Dysart moved to Marshalltown, Jay Nason built his new home on that lot (now occupied by Loren Vogt). The old Dysart house was moved south of the Grier home.

Mrs. Campbell and her son Cy lived at the corner of Oak Street and 1st Street. When Cy Campbell left Van Cleve, Good Amendt built a new home at his location.

FROM THE MANAGEMENT LEVEL . . .

In 1959-60, the final year of Van Cleve School operation, Kindergarten through Grade 12, the school board members were Eugene Fitz, President; Harold Bosch, Orville Fuller, Lynn Gowdy, Maurice Korte, Board members; George Dannen, Secretary (a hired position); Ruth Pothast, Treasurer (an appointed position). Several of these people had served on the Board for a number of years prior to this final year of service.

George Dannen recalls that the monthly Board meetings were generally serious working sessions, but that there was also time for coffee and sandwiches. Somehow, the word was out that the Board didn't do much but sit around, drink coffee, and visit. On the evening of one meeting, the Reverend Gatch came to observe the proceedings. The Board worked diligently for several hours without pausing for refreshments. About midnight Rev. Gatch went to sleep and fell off his chair. He picked himself up and declared, "Fellows, I'm going home." After he left, the Board broke out the coffee pot and sandwiches! But the Board had made its point! The report from Rev. Gatch in the community was "those guys really DO work!"

Dannen recalls that when the high school equipment, office and sports equipment were auctioned in the summer of 1960, he was the auctioneer and Eugene Fitz was clerk. Only one typing table per family was allowed to be purchased. Rhodes bought all the baseball equipment. The girls and boys basketball uniforms and equipment were sold individually.

Following the tornado on June 28, 1963 that demolished the gym, the glazed hollow tiles were salvaged by John Mohr, who used them in building a four-bedroom house approximately five miles east and north of Haverhill. These glazed tiles, combined with styrofoam insulation and cinder tile, made exterior walls some 9 - 10" thick. Glazed tile salvaged from the locker rooms were used in the bathroom and entryway. The hardwood gym floor was also salvaged and stored by Mohr in his barn until such time as he was ready to use it for flooring in his home. Before it could be used, lightning struck the barn, burning it and the contents to the ground.

The original school building was demolished by a professional wrecking crew. Merle Duffy, the last janitor at the Van Cleve School, performed a final act of caring for the school property by preserving the building cornerstone.

These gentlemen posed for a picture soon after the consolidated schoolhouse was built. The first three from the left were members of the first Board: George Dannen, Sr., H. G. Bosch, and George Tigges; the other two men pictured are Guy Preston and Fred Ingles. The cornerstone for the building carries this inscription:

OOMP-PA-PA -- OOMP-PA-PA

I don't know who first thought of getting a band organized, but I recall when Supt. Jones presented the idea to the students. If my memory hasn't failed me, the band was started in the fall of 1946. Mr. M. C. Nolte was the band instructor at Gilman. He was shared with Van Cleve and came to our school one day a week and worked with the interested students. The next school term he came to Van Cleve on Tuesdays and Wednesdays. Our band grew to forty members.

The band was unique as it had a large number of B-flat clarinets. Mr. Nolte said a lot of beginning bands lacked clarinets. Our band had sixteen at one time! The school purchased the bass drum at the beginning. Some years later the school purchased a bell-lyre and tuba. We did practice marching in the gym for a few sessions after we had been organized about three years. Our band had a nice mixture of saxophones, trombones, drums, trumpets. We also had a Pep Band which played at basketball games for a few years. We didn't develop our marching abilities even though we had twelve to fifteen twirlers at one time. We gave a lot of concerts and had the twirlers perform with us.

We had one number everyone enjoyed playing. We practiced it often. At one concert in the gym, there was a power failure and the lights went out, BUT THE BAND PLAYED ON! Mr. Nolte whistled to stop us, BUT THE BAND PLAYED ON! Then the lights came on again. Our audience thought that it was part of a planned event of the concert to let them know we had some of the music memorized. Does any band member remember "Promotion"? It was an overture -- the first song in the orange book we used. That was what we were playing when the lights went out.

Remember the summer concerts? Our first summer we practiced each Saturday for six weeks. On the sixth Saturday we gave a concert in the gym. The next summer we gave six concerts on the slab outside the school entrance while our audience sat in their cars to listen.

How proud we were to get uniforms! At first we wore white shirts, black ties and black skirts or trousers. To that was added black capes that were lined with orange satin and a small soft black hat. Oh! our music sounded so professional.

A year or so after the band was organized, the Band Mothers group was also organized. They prepared many soup suppers after a concert to raise money to get our uniforms. We used the hot lunch kitchen and dining room. After the supper was over, we would push the tables back against the walls and the boys carried the piano in from the gym. We kids would square dance while our mothers washed dishes. Hank McMahon called for the dance. Did Irene Wood play the piano for those dances? Was there anyone else who helped with these fun times? We gave our moms music to clean up with -- very thoughtful, weren't we?

After Mr. Nolte left Van Cleve, there were other teachers who led the band, Margaret Holcomb was one. Someone thought we shared the band instructor with Ferguson for awhile. Perhaps our younger "alums" will recall the names of the more recent band instructors. --Grace Bollhoefer Buckles

HERE COMES THE BUS!

Pictured: Don Andrews and Merle Duffy (Merle went on to work as a mechanic in the Marshalltown school bus barn and filled in as a driver)

Other school bus drivers not mentioned in the original book:

Ervin Vogt, Thomas Dannen, Levi Gowdy, Dewey Glidewell, Henry Vogt, Elmer Ramer, George Dannen, Ed Amendt, Rogert Amendt (he drove the first motorized bus), Earl Oetker, Harold Oetker, Carlton Ridout, Maurine Hamler Ridout (she went on to drive for the Marshalltown schools)

Drivers hired by Haverhill in early years to bring students to the Van Cleve School:
Ed Bollhoefer, Coletta Stalzer Klaas, Irvin Camp, Herman Bollhoefer

Riding the school bus was never a dull experience! Merle Duffy tells of a morning when he was approaching the intersection at the school corner from the east. He began to apply the brakes when all of a sudden a rear wheel on the left rolled down the road ahead of him! He had hardly time to react when the second one of that rear dual wheel followed the first down the road! PANIC! The bus dropped down on that corner, was brought safely to a standstill, and the children unloaded and walked on to school! As he had on many other occasions, Cecil Hilleman was called to help with the necessary repair.

Believe it or not! Some years earlier, Coletta Stalzer Klaas had a similar experience while driving students living in the Haverhill district home from the Van Cleve school, only in that instance the vehicle was a Model T Ford. She was driving down the "Hilleman hill" with her student charges, when a wheel rolled down the hill ahead of her! Again, a happy ending to the story as the driver negotiated a safe stop.

Even horse-drawn busses were not accident-free! On a cold winter morning, with icy winds out of the northwest, Irvin Camp had a runaway with his team a mile east of the school intersection. The students evacuated the bus, and walked on to school, the older kids helping the younger ones. Irvin gathered up dinner buckets and carried them, his hands nearly frozen by the time he reached the school.

MMM MMM...WHAT IS THAT GOOD SMELL?

Is it peanut butter cookies or Pride of Iowa cookies? Because of the location of the kitchen, the odors could move up the stairway easily. Sometimes it wasn't the good odors that went up. When something would cook over in the oven, those smells would get out of the kitchen also.

What can you parents recall from the children's comments about lunch? Sometimes Mom would have for supper what we had at noon. Hamburger gravy on mashed potatoes, but not on Monday. We would peel the potatoes the day before. Hot dogs and chocolate cake were very popular.

We had high school girls who would help clean up the dining room tables and wash the dishes the first time for their meal. It was usually three girls. A couple of times there was a boy who helped. Because we didn't have an electric dishwasher, the plates and tableware had to be washed in two different soap waters, rinsed, and sanitized.

We got government commodities to use in the lunches. We got the usual powdered milk, dry pinto beans and orange juice. One time we got several pounds of pecan halves. We used them in cookies and made pecan rolls. We had also gotten frozen turkeys, fresh eggs and cheese and some butter.

I remember there became a shortage of fresh potatoes. Hank McMahon, who was our janitor at the time, came to our rescue and went to several grocery stores to get us enough potatoes to use. I don't remember the reason for the shortage. I guess it was like in the more recent years, when we had shortage of raisins and T.P.

In the kitchen, the equipment were the tables that the Home Economics classes had used years before. Two home-sized stoves and two or three electric roasters. We had a few large pans to bake and cook with. In the later years we got an electric mixer. It made making mashed potatoes easier. We had a large refrigerator when I first started to work there in 1951. In the later years it was replaced with two home-sized refrigerators. I think the stoves that were first used by the hot lunch program were placed in the kitchen by some appliance store free of charge.

ALSO NUMBERED AMONG OUR SCHOOL FRIENDS . . .

The brick schoolhouse opened for classes September 6, 1915, and served the families of the Van Cleve community for almost a half-century. Below are the names of many who attended classes here, but who, for one reason or another, did not graduate from Van Cleve. Often families moved from the community, or older students were needed at home to help with the crops. Frequently a student lost a parent and needed to take over those responsibilities. Perhaps a few quit to get married, while others transferred to high school at Marshalltown before the merger. Although this list is not complete, it certainly is long enough to bring back memories of our friends.

AND NOW FAREWELL . . .

The time has come, as it always must,
To say a last adieu
To the school where we learned to read and write
And learned many other things too!

We've all traveled along our own "Memory Lane"
In the years that have since gone by,
We've known love and happiness -- sorrow and pain --
But the good memories never die.

For many of us now, our yesterdays
Far outnumber the tomorrows we'll know,
But thank God we do have memories
That warm with a gentle glow.

Yes, memory weaves life's fabric --
Blending the new and old --
And suddenly one day we'll find
Our memories have turned to gold.
